

University of Arizona wins back-to-back WCWS Championships using Worth Equipment

ST. LOUIS, MO (June 11, 2007) Worth congratulates Coach Mike Candrea and the University of Arizona on back-to-back Women's College World Series Championships. The University of Arizona softball team edged the University of Tennessee 2 games to 1 in a best of 3 series. Worth is the official equipment supplier of both the University of Arizona and the University of Tennessee.

The University of Tennessee took game one by defeating Arizona 3-0 as standout pitcher Monica Abbott threw her fourth straight shutout. Game two was taken by Arizona in a 2-0, extra inning game to tie the series one game apiece. The deciding game was won by the University of Arizona with a final score of 5-0 to win their second straight title and the eighth in school history.

Worth also congratulates Co-Head Coaches Ralph and Karen Weekly and the entire University of Tennessee softball team on a very successful year.

“Our goal in sports marketing is to partner with the absolute best college teams and to provide them with the most innovative performance products on the market. Both Mike Candrea and Ralph and Karen Weekly clearly understand this partnership and we are proud to be able to help contribute to their success. Congratulations Coach Mike Candrea and Co-Head Coaches Ralph and Karen Weekly,” adds Cheri Kempf, Manager of Fastpitch Sports Marketing at Worth.

The University of Tennessee and the University of Arizona both use Worth softball equipment exclusively. Tennessee is outfitted in custom white with orange Liberty fielder's gloves, Liberty batting helmets, and swing Mayhem and Quad bats. Arizona takes the field wearing custom white with red and blue Liberty fielder's gloves and bat with Mayhem and Quad. Worth is the Official Softball of the NCAA Championships.

About Worth:

Worth is a leading marketer and manufacturer of softball and baseball equipment in the United States. Worth is the official ball of the NCAA[®] Division I, II and III women's softball Championships. Worth Sports[®] is a division of K2 Inc., a premier branded consumer products company with a portfolio of leading brands. For more information, please visit www.worthsports.com.